KOREAN KNOT TYING AT HUNTINGTON

The Bronx Council on the Arts held a Korean Knot Tying class at the Huntington Free Library in Westchester Square on Saturday, January 15. Participants learned to make art out of decorative knots during the workshop. The event is part of a monthly series.

Making their own unique art during the Korean Knot Tying class were (l-r) Ann Manlow of Pelham Bay, teacher Karen Ahn of Morris Park, and Lisa Curran from the Bronx Council on the Arts.
