

February 25, 2010

Photos by Robert Benimoff

COLLAGE MAKING WORKSHOP AT HUNTINGTON

The Bronx Council on the Arts and Huntington Free Library at 9 Westchester Square hosted a collage-making workshop for the community on Saturday, February 20. All of the material used in the collages was recycled.

Artist Star Nigro facilitated the free event, which tapped the creativity of young people and encouraged expressing themselves through visual arts. The event included children and counselors from BronxWorks youth programs.

(Above, left) Brandon Wallace and artist Star Nigro show some of the collages made of recycled materials.

(Above, right) Rashaun Pope of Finley Avenue and artist Star Nigro with some recycled art.