VOLUME I

Bronx Memoir Project Features Aspiring Authors

Dozens of aspiring Bronx writers have made big steps toward their dreams.

The Bronx Council on the Arts (BCA) helped publish the Bronx Memoir Project, a collection of short, autobiographical written works that depict personal experiences.

The authors all participated in a workshop taught by the BCA's Bronx Writers Center.

The Bronx Memoir Project features dozens of short, autobiographical written works.

Organizers say the memoir provides exposure to people who normally don't get published or receive any publicity.
