Saturday | December 8, 2012 | 11:00am to 1:00pm

(November 16, 2011) The Bronx Council on the Arts (BCA) and the Bronx Children's Museum present a special public program: The Bronx Children's Museum's hands-on, travelling exhibit River on the Go: Where is Justin the Beaver? on Saturday, December 8th, from 11:00am to 1:00pm.

Children will create artwork inspired by the Bronx River flora and fauna while visiting the exhibit on board the Bronx Children's Museum's Travelling Exhibition Bus. This event is free, open to the public and all are welcome.

The Bronx Children's Museum's Travelling Exhibition Bus will be parked in the parking lot of the Bronx Council on the Arts' 2700 East Tremont Avenue building, located between East Tremont Avenue and Benson Street in the Westchester Square section of the Bronx.

River on the Go: Where is Justin the Beaver? is a multi-sensory traveling exhibition that educates children about the natural flora and fauna located along the Bronx River. We invite children and their families to get on the museum bus and participate in drawing and other art-making activities inspired by the exhibition.
