

BCA Seeks Professional Individuals to Serve as Panelists for their Re-Grants Programs

The Bronx Council on the Arts (BCA) is seeking nominations of individuals to serve on the various panels conducted throughout the year. These panels represent a wide range of experience in arts management and arts disciplines. Candidates should be familiar with the arts scene of the Bronx and community based organizations of the Bronx, along with having a comprehensive understanding of the Bronx. Keep in mind that in an effort to maintain a high level of integrity and impartiality in its decision-making process, BCA needs to consider many factors, including cultural diversity and geographic representation, when creating its panels. In view of these requirements, BCA may not be able to utilize the services of all of the qualified individuals nominated. However, nominee information will be held for at least two years.

The ideal panelist would be able to commit to NONPARTISAN review of applications for funding. Individual must commit to one FULL day (9:00am to 6:00pm), Able and willing to review up to fifty-seven applications. Use the program criteria and select the best projects and not be partisan based on race, ethnicity, class, neighborhood, or artistic discipline. It is important that all applicants are given equal opportunity. This is a competitive grant process, not an entitlement grant process. Individuals chosen will be provided a small stipend for their community service, plus meals.
